Dear Joseph Lovetere,

Congratulations, we have reviewed your application for your location and approved Hub Technical Services, 44 Norfolk Avenue, South Easton, MA, 02375 for participation in the following program:

Higher Education Certified Education Partner program (CEP)

Please note that these designations are specific to this location. Details on your benefits for the above certification/s are available on HP Partnership Web at www.hp.com/partners/us.

Your marketing and sales activities are critical to our mutual success, as they extend our marketing messages down to the decision-maker level at multiple businesses and institutions. You can expect to see Hewlett-Packard Marketing activities throughout the year, including partnerships with major vendors, advertising, and participation in conferences, trade shows, and forums. We're confident that our marketing activities will help you be successful in selling to all of your target institutions.

We hope that you will utilize HP's Partnership website to their fullest potential. Over the upcoming year, Hewlett-Packard will continue to update the web sites with tools, presentations, training materials, etc. to assist you in selling to your public sector customers. In addition, you will also find marketing material in Campaign Central, an InfoSource archive, and the latest marketing promotions.

Please work closely with your Hewlett-Packard Account Managers in your selling efforts. They are the central Hewlett-Packard resource in your local geography. They are well trained and can provide you with strategic information about the direction of Hewlett-Packard products and programs. Your Account Manager should be your first point of contact for questions concerning large opportunities. If you have questions concerning product pricing and availability or questions concerning the status of an order please call: For Education (800) 88-TEACH or for State and Local please call (888) 202-GOV2

If you have any questions or comments concerning your certification, please contact us via email at CEP@HP.com or STLReseller@HP.com

Thanks again for your continued interest in HP's Public Sector Programs. Together we can continue to make Hewlett-Packard the product of choice in schools, colleges, universities, State and Local Institutions, and government agencies.

Sincerely,

Caroline Scott
